IN THE FIELD OF SCOUTDOM

Chicago—Chicago Scoutercraft for January is certainly full of good things and they are to be congratulated on the splendid paper and the fine work they are accomplishing for the men of tomorrow. Among the big things is that of securing Dr. H. W. Hurt as their executive. He is a prominent social worker of many years standing, has been president of many colleges. For the past year and a half he was with the national office at New York. He is the editor of the Scoutmaster's Hand Book and is at present editing a hand book for scout executives. The biggest and best is none too good for Chicago.

Here are some things from the Chicago Scoutercraft:

A Word For the Teacher

There are a great many other things I would do differently if I were going through school again. Here is just one I would like to mention: I'd be a little more considerate of the teachers. There is once in a while an every one, I admit, but on the average they are a mighty nice, patient, friendly, helpful lot of girls. They work hard, get none too much pay, and even less appreciation, and do us a great deal of good.—From the Save Scouts in Boys' Life for September.

New Year Resolutions, 1921

I shall attend every troop meeting during the year. I will try to make my troop the best.

Alameda Test Requirements

Alameda California the old home of your commissioner has gotten out the most complete little folder on rules and regulations for requirements that it has ever been my good fortune to get hold of. It is complete from tenderfoot to Eagle Scout tests and contains all the required forms for the signing of test examiners, scoutmaster and the court of honor also a place for the scout membership card. Some booklet, congratulations Alameda. You certainly have grown.

TROOP DOINGS

The Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints is now in the scout ring and organizing a troop of scouts. President E. Wesley Smith of Honolulu while on a visit to Maui had a talk with the commissioner and stated to him that he had spoken to Mr. Jones asking him to organize a troop at once. John Waiwaiole will act as scoutmaster.

Tests

Scouts Saida and Takemoto have been passing their second class first aid work and the examiner says that the work of these scouts is far above the average. Saida passed his knife and hatchet test and the work of sharpening the axe is something to be proud of.

Spreckelsville

The Spreckelsville scouts are progressing in first class shape and are rapidly passing the tenderfoot tests. J. M. Brown, scoutmaster of the troop is deeply interested in the work.

Puukoi

The work at Puukoi is getting under way and Mr. Cockett principal of the school will assist in putting the troop on its feet. It is hoped that Mr. Shaw will also take a hand in the troop doings.

Lahaina

As usual a big showing is being made by that troop. On Thursday night 23 scouts greeted the commissioner as he entered the armory. The troop is fortunate in having a fine theory room for a meeting place, and the use of the armory for drilling and games. Watch them go.

Makawao

Today E. H. Jones will take formal charge of the troop as scoutmaster. It is a splendid boost for scouting when a man of his type takes up the work and it is sincerely hoped that more men of his type will get into the work.

WHO HAS YOURS?

Scoutmasters

Here is what we want and we want them at once. We have the boys, hundreds of them are waiting to get into the movement, but we have to keep them waiting for the want of scoutmasters. Do not make the old worn out excuse that you are too busy, haven't the time, etc. Get into the harness and help us make Americans. This is just as much a call of duty as over your country put upon you.

Subs Not Submarines

Come on Scouts. The scout knives are going fast. Get in your subscriptions to the Maui News and get one of those fine new scout knives before they are all gone. The fellow that rushes now will be the one who wins the prize.

Attitude of Senator Baldwin is Commended

By a vote of 8 to 7, with all of Maui's senators recorded in the negative, the territorial senate endorsed and recommended Delegate J. K. Kalaniana'ole for governor. Senator Baldwin speaking against the resolution said it was presumption on the part of the legislature to seek to dictate to the President on appointment of an executive. Senator Rice opposed on the ground that Kalaniana'ole was not best suited for the office.

Commenting editorially on the opposition of Senator Baldwin to the resolution The Advertiser said:

"Well taken indeed was Senator Baldwin's stand yesterday in objection to the concurrent resolution endorsing Delegate Kuhio Kalaniana'ole for the governorship.

"The objection of the senator from Maui was based upon the ground that the territorial legislature is a legislative and not a political organization, and that no provision is made in the Organic Act for the lawmaking body of the Territory to offer advice to the President of the United States. The President-elect has not asked us for our endorsement of a man to succeed Governor McCarthy, and whether we are unanimous or otherwise, I do not believe it is proper for us to go on record as a legislative body, Senator Baldwin said. And he was quite right.

"It was presumptuous of the legislature to put itself on record as endorsing any candidate. We do not say that it did not have as much right to endorse Delegate Kalaniana'ole as anyone else; but in giving endorsement to anyone it took a step that, to say the least, was ill advised.

"The resolution is worded in language that is untrue. It mentions Delegate Kalaniana'ole as the choice of the people. No matter how popular the Prince may be—and far be it from us to even intimate that he is not very popular personally—it cannot be denied that there is a most decided opposition to him for Governor of Hawaii, and those who drafted the resolution were well aware of that opposition. Fortunately, the legislature's action will carry very little weight, but what weight it does carry should be based upon truth, and it is anything but the truth to designate Kuhio as the choice of the people."

Have a cup tea and then have your fortune told at the Carnival in Lahaina.—Adv.

OBITUARY

SISTER BEATRICE

After more than half a century of usefulness in the education of Hawaii's girlhood during which she left the mark of her personal influence upon the characters of hundreds of women, Sister Beatrice of St. Andrew's Priory passed away last Saturday at the advanced age of 92 years.

Kamehameha IV and his consort, Queen Emma, were desirous of having established a school for girls and in answer to his request Sister Beatrice accompanied by Miss Sellon, Eldress Phebe and Sister Catherine sailed from England in 1867 and arrived in Honolulu the same year. The priory was opened May 30, 1867 and Sister Beatrice had been away from the Islands only once since that time, being always connected with the school she and the others came to found.

Women of two generations and girls of a third, from every island of the group are sorrowing at the passing of the friend of their schoolgirl days, the woman of beautiful character they loved and admired.

COL. GEORGE W. MACFARLANE

Word reached the Islands this week of the death of Col. George W. Macfarlane in New York City in the seventy-second year of his age. Though he had been away from the Islands for many years he is remembered by older kamaainas as chamberlain to King Kalakaua, as associated with Spreckles in his sugar operations in the Islands and in other Island industries. It was he who floated a loan of $2,000,000 for Hawaii in England, which was considered a great financial feat in those days. He accompanied Kalakaua on his world touring journey.

In business affairs Col. Macfarlane was one of the founders of Green, Macfarlane & Co., which later became G. W. Macfarlane & Co., and was one of the incorporators of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel Company. Prior to that period he had been educated at Punahou, employed by A. S. Cleghorn, a salesman for C. Brewer & Co., and on the sugar estate of Capt. James Mackee at Ulupalakua, this Island, connected with Jannion, Green & Co., which later became T. H. Davies & Co. With Col. William H. Cornwell he had purchased Waikapu sugar plantation.

Fred W. and Clarence Macfarlane, his brothers, survive him in Honolulu.
